

The Long Island Choral Society presents ...

From the

Sublime

to the RIDICULOUS

Brace yourselves for a musical showdown between sheer elegance and downright absurdity!

We're pitting the sublime melodies of Johannes Brahms against the utterly ridiculous antics of P.D.Q. Bach in a concert of contrasts.

In Act 1, we'll serenade you with Brahms's beloved Liebeslieder Waltzes — lush, romantic, and the very definition of choral perfection. Swooning and sighs of admiration are encouraged.

Then, we flip the script with Act 2: Liebeslieder Polkas by P.D.Q. Bach (the brilliantly absurd alter-ego of Peter Schickele). This musical prankster turns Brahms's elegance upside down with polka-fueled chaos, musical mayhem, visual hijinks, and seriously bad puns.

Join us for an evening of beauty and buffoonery!
